Coping with a power outage isn't easy, but with a few common household items and these hacks, you can help your family stay safe and comfortable. Print out this checklist and keep it near your preparedness kit to make sure you have what you need on hand.

HEADLAMP Fill a gallon milk jug with water. Strap your headlamp to the jug, facing inward, to create a "lantern" to light the room.

TOYS Keep kids occupied by stashing a bag of toys and activities that don't need electricity with your preparedness kit.

PHONE Put your phone on airplane mode to save battery life.

WASHER Turn your clothes washer into a cooler by filling it with ice. You won't have to worry about draining water as the ice melts.

PROPANE Keep your grill and a tank of propane at the ready so you can cook or heat up food.

BUBBLE WRAP In cold weather, cover your windows and doors with bubble wrap to keep heat inside.

MILK JUG Freeze tap water in gallon milk jugs. You can use them during an outage to keep food cold, or you can melt the ice for drinking water.

COOKING OIL Place a cotton ball or string in the middle of a can of cooking oil to make a "candle."

BABY WIPES A box or two of baby wipes can help you stay clean if your shower doesn't work.

STANDBY GENERATOR Install an automatic standby generator to keep power on in your house
